FINANCIAL HARDSHIP IN-SERVICE WITHDRAWAL PACKAGE

GENERAL INFORMATION

Before requesting a financial hardship in-service withdrawal, read the information and instructions in this package. You should also read the booklet TSP In-Service Withdrawals. It provides more detailed information about withdrawing money from your TSP account, including tax consequences, rules affecting spouses' rights, and the termination of your contributions. The booklet also explains the information and documentation you must provide to support your request for a financial hardship in-service withdrawal.

Note: If you are in pay status and are eligible for a TSP loan, you may want to consider taking a loan rather than withdrawing funds from your TSP account.

QUALIFYING FOR A FINANCIAL HARDSHIP IN-SERVICE WITHDRAWAL

To qualify for a financial hardship withdrawal from your TSP account:

- You must be a current Federal employee. (This includes employees who are in approved nonpay status.)
- Your TSP account must contain at least $1,000 of your own contributions and earnings on those contributions. (You cannot request to withdraw less than this.)
- You must demonstrate financial hardship for the amount you request.
- You cannot have received a financial hardship in-service withdrawal within 6 months of the time your current request is processed.
- You cannot have a pending application for an age-based in-service withdrawal or a TSP loan.

The determination of financial hardship is based on your having regular monthly expenses in excess of net income (i.e., negative cash flow), including certain unpaid and unreimbursable extraordinary expenses. Extraordinary expenses are limited to four types: household improvements needed for medical care personal casualty loss, legal expenses for separation/ divorce, and medical expenses. Note: You are not eligible for a financial hardship withdrawal if you are in Chapter 13 bankruptcy because the bankruptcy court has shielded you against a negative cash flow position.

When the TSP receives your application, it will determine whether you qualify for a financial hardship withdrawal and the amount for which you qualify. If the TSP determines that you qualify for a withdrawal of at least $1,000 -- but for an amount that is less than you requested -- the TSP will send you the amount for which you qualify. If you do not qualify, the TSP will notify you by mail.

TERMINATING YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS

When your financial hardship in-service withdrawal is made, the TSP will instruct your agency to terminate your employee contributions (if any) for 6 months. If you are a FERS employee, this means that any Agency Matching Contributions will also stop; however, as long as you are in pay status, you will continue to receive your Agency Automatic (1%) Contributions during this time. At the end of this 6-month period, you can ask your agency to resume your contributions -- they will not resume automatically.

WHERE YOUR PAYMENT WILL BE SENT

Payment and correspondence related to your in-service withdrawal will be mailed to the address in your TSP account record. If your TSP account address is not correct, contact your agency personnel office immediately to ensure that your agency provides your correct address to the TSP. The TSP cannot use the address that you provide on your in-service withdrawal request to change your TSP account address or to mail your check.

APPLYING FOR A FINANCIAL HARDSHIP IN-SERVICE WITHDRAWAL

This package contains:

Form TSP-76, Financial Hardship In-Service Withdrawal Request	Use this form to apply for a financial hardship withdrawal.
Financial Hardship Worksheet	Use the Worksheet to help determine the amount for which you qualify.
Form TSP-75-T, Transfer of In-Service Withdrawal	Use this form if you want to have all or part of your payment transferred to an Individual Retirement Arrangement (IRA) or other eligible retirement plan.
Important Tax Information About TSP In-Service Withdrawal Payments	Read this notice to understand the tax consequences of your withdrawal.

You must include with your Form TSP-76:

- A copy of your current earnings and leave statement (even if you are in nonpay status).
- Supporting documentation if your request for a withdrawal includes extraordinary expenses.

Make a copy of the completed form(s) for your records. Mail the original(s) to:

TSP Service Office
National Finance Center
P.O. Box 61500
New Orleans, LA 70161-1500

TSP-76 Information and Instructions

I. INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

1 - 8: Payment and correspondence related to your in-service withdrawal will be mailed to the address in your TSP account record. If you have a new address, contact your agency personnel or payroll office immediately to ensure that your correct address is provided to the TSP.

9: Attach a copy of your current earnings and leave statement and check this box. The statement must be for your most recent pay date at the time you send your request, and the pay date can be no more than 45 days before the date the TSP receives your Form TSP-76. You must attach your earnings and leave statement even if you are in nonpay status; the statement is required to confirm that you received no pay for this period.

II. WITHDRAWAL REQUEST

10: You may withdraw only your own contributions and earnings. You may not request less than $1,000. The maximum amount that you can withdraw depends on the amount of your documented financial hardship and the amount that is available in your account for a withdrawal.

Use the Financial Hardship Worksheet to help you calculate the amount of your financial hardship based on the information you provide in Sections VI and VII of the application (Financial Statement and Extraordinary Expenses). Complete the Worksheet before you enter an amount in Item 10 so that you do not request more than you have documented.

Do not submit the Worksheet with your application. The TSP will calculate the actual amount for which you qualify based on your Financial Statement, your current earnings and leave statement, your supporting documentation for any extraordinary expenses, and the value of your TSP employee contributions and attributable earnings.

If you qualify for at least $1,000 but less than the full amount that you requested the TSP will send you the amount for which you qualify.

III. TAX WITHHOLDING AND TRANSFER INFORMATION

In-service withdrawal payments are considered "eligible rollover distributions" for Federal income tax purposes and, as such, are subject to mandatory 20% Federal income tax withholding. This withholding cannot be waived. However, you can request one of the following options:

- An increase in your withdrawal amount to cover Federal income tax withholding (if the entire withdrawal is sent directly to you),
- or
- A transfer of all or a portion of your withdrawal to an Individual Retirement Arrangement (IRA) or other eligible retirement plan to defer Federal income tax withholding on the amount transferred.

Read the tax notice included in this package. If you do not want either of these options, skip to Item 13.

11: Check this box only if you would like to receive -- after Federal income tax withholding -- the full amount of the withdrawal which you requested. The amount you withdraw from your account will then be increased to cover the Federal tax withholding on your payment. (Note: The additional amount that is withdrawn is also subject to tax withholding and any early withdrawal penalty tax.)

For example, if you check this box and the amount that you request (and for which you qualify) is $1,000, $1,250 will be withdrawn from your TSP account. A check for $1,000 will be sent directly to you, and $250 (or 20% of $1,250) will be withheld for Federal tax purposes. The disbursement of $1,250 will be reported to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

Note: The additional withdrawal can be made only if:

- No portion of your withdrawal is being transferred to an IRA or other eligible retirement plan,
- and
- You have sufficient employee contributions and attributable earnings in your TSP account. If you do not, your withdrawal will be increased only to the extent that funds are available.

12: Check this box only if you want the TSP to transfer all or any portion of your in-service withdrawal to an IRA or other eligible retirement plan. You will avoid the mandatory tax withholding on any portion of your withdrawal that you transfer directly to an IRA or other eligible retirement plan. However, these funds will still be subject to taxes when you withdraw the money from the IRA or plan. If you check this box, you must also submit Form TSP-75-T, Transfer of In-Service Withdrawal, which is included in this package.

THRIFT SAVINGS PLAN FINANCIAL HARDSHIP IN-SERVICE WITHDRAWAL REQUEST

TSP-76

Read the instructions carefully. In order to be eligible for a financial hardship withdrawal, you must be an active Federal employee, you must have at least $1,000 of your own contributions and attributable earnings in your account, and you must be able to demonstrate the need for a financial hardship withdrawal. You must also provide a current earnings and leave statement and supporting documentation for any extraordinary expenses you list on this application.

IV. - V. SPOUSE INFORMATION AND CONSENT

Spouses' rights apply to all in-service withdrawal requests. If you are a married FERS employee, this means that your spouse must consent to your in-service withdrawal. If you are a married CSRS employee, the TSP must notify your spouse before your in-service withdrawal can be made.

13 - 14: (FERS and CSRS participants) -- You must complete Item 13, and, if married, you must provide your spouse's name in Item 14. Otherwise, the TSP will not be able to process your request.

15 - 19: (Married CSRS participants) -- Provide your spouse's address in Items 15 - 18. If you do not know the whereabouts of your spouse, check Item 19 and submit Form TSP-16. Exception to Spousal Requirements, with the required documentation.

20 - 22: (Married FERS participants) -- Your spouse must give written consent to the withdrawal by signing and dating Items 20 and 21. If you cannot obtain your spouse's signature because his or her whereabouts are unknown or you believe that exceptional circumstances apply, check Item 22 and submit Form TSP-16, Exception to Spousal Requirements, with the required documentation.

VI. FINANCIAL STATEMENT

Complete each item, rounding to the nearest dollar. If your income, deductions, or expenses for a particular item are 0, enter 0.

This form requests information about you, your spouse, and your dependents. Dependents are defined as individuals whom you can claim as dependents for Federal income tax purposes at the time you apply for the hardship withdrawal.

If you are married and not separated from your spouse, report income for both yourself and your spouse. If information cannot be assigned to yourself or your spouse individually, enter the total only. If you and your spouse are separated, report only your own income and your own household expenses.

24: Family Size. Family size includes you, your spouse, and your dependents. If you are separated or divorced, it includes you and your dependents only if your dependents are living with you. If your dependents are living elsewhere and you contribute to their support, do not include them in family size but include in Item 43 the amount of support you pay. If children you cannot claim as dependents are living with you and you receive support for them, include them in family size and enter the amount of support you receive in Item 34.

MONTHLY INCOME

If you are in nonpay status, enter 0 in your column for Items 25 - 33. (The earnings and leave statement you are required to submit for your most recent pay date must confirm that you received no pay for that pay period.) If your spouse is not employed or is in nonpay status at the time you are completing the application, enter 0 in your spouse's column.

If in pay status, provide monthly figures. Calculate the monthly amount as described below:

25: Monthly gross salary or wages.

- If you are paid biweekly (26 times a year), multiply the biweekly amount from your current earnings and leave statement by 26 and divide by 12.
- If you are paid weekly (52 times a year), multiply the weekly amount from your current earnings and leave statement by 52 and divide by 12.
- If you are paid semimonthly (24 times a year), add the amounts from your last two earnings and leave statements.

- If you are paid monthly (12 times a year), use the amount shown on your current earnings and leave statement.

Deductions from Income

Calculate monthly deductions as shown in Item 25.

26 - 28: Monthly Federal, state, and local income tax withholding. Enter the amount of monthly tax withholding for each.

29: Monthly OASDI (Social Security)/Medicare. If you or your spouse have more than one job, include the monthly OASDI (Social Security)/Medicare deduction associated with all wages and salary.

30: Monthly Federal retirement deduction (FERS/CSRS). Enter the monthly amount withheld for the FERS Basic Annuity or for the CSRS annuity.

31: Monthly TSP contributions (spouse only). Enter only your Spouse's monthly contributions to the TSP. Do not include your own.

32: Other monthly retirement plan deductions. Enter monthly deductions for retirement plans of any non-Federal jobs. Do not include contributions to an IRA.

33: Total deductions. Add all the entries in the Total column for Items 26 - 32.

Additions to Income

Calculate monthly additions as shown in Item 25.

34: Monthly alimony, maintenance, and/or child support. Enter the amount received each month. If payments are irregular, enter the average of the last 3 months.

35: Other monthly income. Enter other income, including royalties and net income from real estate investments and a family business (i.e., monthly cash income minus monthly cash outlays). If net income is negative, enter a minus sign and subtract it when you total the additions to your income in Item 36.

36: Total additions to income. Add Item 34 and Item 35.

37: TOTAL NET MONTHLY INCOME. Subtract the amount of Item 33 from the amount of Item 25 and add Item 36.

VI. FINANCIAL STATEMENT (continued)

MONTHLY SCHEDULED HOUSEHOLD EXPENSES

38: Monthly household rent/mortgage payment. Enter your monthly rent or mortgage payment for your primary residence. If your payment includes real estate taxes and homeowner's insurance, include them here and enter 0 in Items 39 and 40. If additional mortgages are outstanding on your residence, or if you are in pay status and have an outstanding TSP residential loan, also include those payments.

39: Monthly household real estate tax. If you pay your real estate tax separately from your mortgage payment, enter an amount representing one month's real estate tax for your primary residence.

40: Monthly household homeowner's insurance. If paid separately from your rent or mortgage, enter the monthly insurance amount for your primary residence.

41: Monthly household utilities. Enter your total monthly payments for utilities (e.g., gas, electric, phone, water). Do not list items included in your rent. (If your monthly utility bills vary substantially, use your average monthly bills over 12 months.)

42: Monthly household dependent care. Enter the amount you pay each month for care for a dependent child, or for your spouse or another dependent adult who cannot be left alone while other adults are at work. Include household help needed due to illness or injury.

43: Monthly expense for alimony, maintenance, and/or child support Enter the amount you pay each month.

44: Monthly installment loan payments. Enter name of lender and payment amount for loans with set monthly payments only (e.g., automobile loans, unsecured bank loans, or schedule of payments for back taxes owed). Do not include past due payments. Do not payments for credit card purchases, charge accounts, or interest charges on them. (We take credit card payments and other recurring expenses into account as a function of your monthly income and family size.) Do not include payments for the monthly scheduled household expenses listed in Items 38 - 43.

45: TOTAL MONTHLY SCHEDULED HOUSEHOLD EXPENSES. Add all the entries in Items 38 - 44.

VII. EXTRA- ORDINARY EXPENSES

Extraordinary expenses include must be unpaid and unreimbursable (by insurance or otherwise). Only the four types of expenses described below are allowed. You must submit supporting documentation that you have incurred (but not paid) the specific expense, or will incur it within the next 6 months. For incurred expenses, provide a copy of a bill on the service provider's letterhead itemizing the expenses. For expenses to be incurred, provide an itemized cost estimate and the service provider's letterhead and a statement signed by you indicating the amount of those expenses to be incurred within the next 6 months. Supporting documentation must be dated no more than 45 days before the date the TSP receives your Form TSP-76.

You must read the booklet TSP In-Service Withdrawals for documentation requirements and examples. Failure to submit adequate supporting documentation may result in a withdrawal of a smaller amount than you requested.

46: Costs of household improvements needed for medical care -- Limited to costs that are eligible for deduction on your Federal income tax return, but without the IRS limits on income or fair market value. Examples are changes to your living quarters or installation of special equipment required because of illness or injury. The improvements may be required for you, your spouse, or your dependent (i.e., an individual you can claim as a dependent for Federal income tax purposes at this time).

47: Expenses due to personal casualty loss -- Limited to costs of repair and replacement associated with losses that are eligible for deduction on your Federal income tax return, but without the IRS limits on income or fair market value (e.g., sudden property loss resulting from damage or destruction by fire, storm, or other casualty, or due to theft).

48: Legal costs associated with your separation or divorce -- Limited to attorney fees and court costs, not alimony or child support payments or settlements you must pay your former spouse.

49: Medical expenses -- May be incurred by you, your spouse, or your dependents for Federal income tax purposes at the time you request the withdrawal). Generally, includes expenses that are eligible for deduction on your Federal income tax return, but without the IRS income limits. This includes physician and hospital services and prescription drugs; it does not include medical or dental insurance premiums or costs covered under Item 46.

50: TOTAL EXTRAORDINARY EXPENSES. Add Items 46 - 49.

VIII. YOUR ACKNOWLEDGE- MENT AND CERTIFICATION

Read the acknowledgement and certification carefully. By signing this section you are:

- Acknowledging that your employee contributions, if any (and any matching contributions, if you are a FERS employee), will be terminated for 6 months after your withdrawal has been paid.
- Certifying you are not in Chapter 13 bankruptcy.

▪ Permitting the TSP to contact individuals or institutions shown on this form or in supporting documentation to confirm amounts listed.

▪ Waiving the 30-day tax notification period that the TSP is required to provide you so that you can consider the tax information.

Financial Hardship Worksheet

Complete this Worksheet to calculate the amount of your financial hardship. Refer to the Financial Statement and the Extraordinary Expenses sections (VI and VII) of your Form TSP-76 for the numbered items in this Worksheet. The TSP will calculate the actual amount of the hardship withdrawal for which you qualify based on the information you provided in Sections VI and VII (including the supporting documentation), your earnings and leave statement, and the value of your TSP employee contributions and attributable earnings.

TO DETERMINE YOUR HARDSHIP AMOUNT DUE TO NEGATIVE CASH FLOW:

A. Total monthly income: Complete calculation I or II below depending on your current pay status to determine ordinary monthly household expenses. For those in nonpay status, even though your current actual pay may be $0, you must use your annual salary of record for the calculation.

I. If in Nonpay Status:

1. Annual salary of record from most recent earnings and leave statement. _____
2. Divide Line 1 by 12 months _____
3. Item 25 _____
4. Item 36 _____
5. Add Lines 2, 3, and 4; enter result on Line A. _____

II. If in Pay Status:

3. Item 25 _____
4. Item 36 _____
5. Add Lines 1 and 2; enter result on Line A. _____

_____ A

B. Allowance for ordinary monthly household expenses:

This covers ordinary monthly recurring expenses (e.g., food, clothing, household operations, entertainment, education, health insurance premiums, miscellaneous expenses), including expenses frequently charged to credit cards. The allowance is based on your monthly income and family size. Using the table, find the factor for your total monthly income (Line A) and your family size (Item 24 of your Financial Statement). Enter that factor and multiply it by the amount of your total monthly income (Line A). Round to the nearest whole dollar.
